

FACT SHEET

DSL by the Numbers

Fiscal Year 2010

The Department of State Lands (DSL) was first established in 1878 as the Office of the Clerk of the State Land Board. The agency is the administrative arm of the board, managing land and other resources dedicated to the Common School Fund. The Land Board, Oregon's oldest board, is composed of the Governor, Secretary of State and State Treasurer. Oregon's Constitution directs the board to manage state trust lands to generate revenue for Oregon public schools.

In 1957 the Legislature passed the Uniform Unclaimed Property Act and assigned the Land Board and DSL the responsibility of safeguarding lost financial assets until claimed by rightful owners.

Beginning in 1967, DSL began implementing the state's removal-fill law which protects natural waterways and wetlands for purposes of navigation, fisheries, commerce and recreation. In 1989, the agency started Oregon's wetlands conservation program.

The agency has four divisions, and serves as the state partner for the South Slough National Estuarine Research Reserve in Charleston, one of 27 reserves throughout the United States. The Oregon Natural Heritage Program is also housed under DSL.

For the 2009-11 biennium, DSL has 111 employees (108.46 FTE):

- Director's Office (7 staff)
- Land Management (25 staff)
- Wetlands and Waterways Conservation (33 staff)
- Finance and Administration (28 staff)
- South Slough Reserve (18 staff)

The agency's 2009-11 Legislatively Adopted Budget is $32,814,595, all Other Funds and Federal Funds.
